

Workplace Training is a customized program supporting the training needs of eligible job seekers. It provides worksite-based training and work experience to enable people to find and maintain employment.

Eligible employers agree to train and provide work experience for a specific period of time, with the expectation of continued employment for that individual. The position must be full-time with a minimum of 30 hours per week.

Wage reimbursement is provided to eligible employers to off-set the cost of training on the job.

An initial assessment is required of the company and candidate to establish eligibility. Our experienced Employment Specialist will provide you with support throughout the process from completing necessary documents to developing a training plan to working with your new employee to ensure productivity and success.

Each training contract is negotiated based on the needs of the individual, the nature of the job, and complexity of training provided. Please contact the Employment Specialist for specific information regarding the process.

Individuals must meet basic eligibility requirements:

- Unemployed
- Must be Ready, Willing and Able to work on a full time basis
- Have realistic and attainable career goals
- Must be a current resident of Alberta and able to work in Canada

All paperwork must be in place before hiring an individual for this program
